

Stanford Achievement Tests

for all 2nd-7th graders
Monday, April 16 – Friday, April 20

OLSAT Test

for all 3rd & 5th graders ONLY
Week of April 23

The Stanford Achievement Test will be administered to all 2nd through 7th grade students April 16th – April 20th. All of these tests are standardized tests. This means that our children's scores will be compared to thousands of other children who take the test under the same conditions. It is important to remember that a student does not pass or fail a test such as this. The scores give useful information that the school can use to help your child reach his or her full potential.

ATTENDANCE AND BEING ON TIME on these days will be very important.

Students who arrive after the testing has begun will not be allowed to enter the testing room. The students will be taking parts of the test each morning during the Stanford Achievement Test week.

Below are things you can tell your child to do that may help him/her prepare for these tests:

REST: Get a good night's sleep before the test.

EAT: Eat a good breakfast on the mornings of the test.

LISTEN: Listen carefully to the directions that are given for the test.

TRY: Do your best. Even if some of the questions seem hard, keep trying and don't give up.

Below are some things you, as parents, can do:

DISCUSS: Talk to your children about school and tests. Help your child understand that a test provides a chance to show what a student knows and how the teacher can best help a child to learn.

SUPPORT: Make sure your child understands that the test scores simply give information. They will not be used to reward or punish students.

RELAX: Reassure your child about the test-taking experience. Students who are calm and sure of themselves do better on tests.
